

SALT LAKE MAN WINS
Knocked Out "Scaldy Quinn" In the Tenth Round.
FIERCE SLUGGING MATCH
"SOLAR PLEXUS" DID UP ZIEGLER IN ONE ROUND.
Felt Sore Over His Defeat—Green Redeems Himself—English Cycle Champion Coming—Base Ball—Chess Game—Cricket—Tod Sloane—Sporting Intelligence.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—The first event on the National club's programme tonight was a 10-round go between "Scaldy" Bill Quinn and Frank Purcell. The fight was a slugging match from the start, the negro being the aggressor, but Purcell proved the most scientific and Referee Grogans decided in his favor at the end of the tenth round. Quinn was a 10 to 6 favorite in the betting.

George Green of San Francisco knocked out Philadelphian Philadelphus in the first round. It was the now famous "solar plexus" with which Fitzsimmons knocked Jim Corbett, which did the work. The round opened with Green forcing the pace. After several exchanges in which honors were even, Green forced Ziegler to a corner and swung viciously with his left for the stomach. The blow landed blow and a storm, and a moment Ziegler swayed forward and then staggered to the corner and went down gradually to his knees and then on his face. He was dead for a moment and then revived. Referee Joe Chynoweth began counting and had reached five when Ziegler made a desperate effort to come to his feet. The effort was too much for him, however, and he fell again. Ziegler, pulling himself to his knees, he collapsed and fell on his face, and was counted out. He was carried to his corner, where his seconds worked, and he remained there for some time, unable to stand, the crowd of 5,000 spectators remaining seated in the meantime.

Ziegler finally recovered and stood up, looked about in the ring, and then the big crowd could hardly realize that the fight was over, so abrupt was the ending, but to those who saw the blow delivered, the effect was not surprising. Ziegler was lying on his back, delivered on a vital spot. After being taken to his dressing room, Ziegler was interviewed by an Associated Press reporter and said that he felt strange, but that when he got the blow he simply could not recover his breath.

It is the first time I was ever knocked out in the ring, and I feel very sore over the defeat, coming as it did at such an early stage of the fight. I received two blows from Green, a right over the heart, which brought me forward, and then came as a flash came the left squarely in the pit of the stomach. I simply collapsed, and that's all there was to it. I would like another chance at Green.

Green explained his success by perfecting the "solar plexus" with a view to using it in just such an emergency. By his victory, so quickly accomplished tonight, Green has redeemed himself in the eyes of his admirers for his recent defeat at the hands of Joe Ziegler. Green once before defeated Ziegler in a 10-round contest in this city.

UTE TROUBLE INVESTIGATION
GOVERNOR OF COLORADO WILL UNDERTAKE IT.

Game Warden Wilcox Reports He Has Nothing to Do Now But "Look After Mormons."

(Special to The Herald.)
Denver, Colo., Nov. 10.—Game Commissioner J. S. Swan has received the following letter from Warden Wilcox:

"The Indians have all gone, and there is not much to do at present but some Mormons to look after. During the Indian trouble I called to my assistance 12 men and kept them ten days. The practice of game wardens in past years has been to notify the Indians to get out. They would move a few miles and settle down to hunting again. This practice has been followed in the past, but now the Indians are so numerous that it is impossible to notify them. I have decided that a committee of five men, to be appointed by the governor, should be stationed at the Indian agency.

THE AUSTRIAN CRISIS
ATTITUDE OF HUNGARIANS ON COMPROMISE BILL.

Scotch Labor Unions Boycott American Joinery—Civil Marriages Legalized in Peru—Report That Salisbury Will Resign Foreign Post—Grist of Foreign News.

Paris, Nov. 10.—The Solr says Sir Robert Peel will fight a duel tomorrow with Duc de Cicerella, as a result of a dispute at Monte Carlo. Swords have been decided upon as the weapons. Both men, the paper adds, are now in Paris in conference with their seconds.

Sir Robert Peel is a grandson of the famous prime minister of England, who died in 1850. The young man succeeded to the title as fourth baronet May 9, 1885. He is 30 years of age, and has already made himself talked of on two continents by his fast life.

He has twice visited the United States. Upon the first occasion a confidence man named McDermott lured young Peel out of a large sum of money, and during the second visit of the young man to America he renewed an acquaintance with the confidence man, and was lured out of a large sum of money, and during the second visit of the young man to America he renewed an acquaintance with the confidence man, and was lured out of a large sum of money.
